Descendants of Captain Thomas Pittman, Sr
by
James Calvin Pittman, Sr. JOHN PITTMAN

John Pittman was the first son of Newitt and Susannah Pittman born January 12, 1796 in Robeson County, North Carolina. John married Susanna Ward (June 15, 1797) daughter of William Ward. John and Susanna Pittman had thirteen children; two daughters and eleven sons.

1. Elizebath Pittman (Sept. 25, 1815)
2. Noah W. Pittman (March 6, 1917) married Julia Ann Lott
3. Enoch W. Pittman (Apr. 21, 1819) married Ester Jamison
4. Erick L. Pittman (Feb. 13, 1821)
5. Emma Jane Pittman (Sept. 6, 1823-Jul. 18, 1880) married Dec. 26, 1847 to Charles W. Bullock.
6. Daniel J. Pittman (Dec. 2, 1826) married Susan McColksy.
7. Richard B. Pittman (Jul. 27, 1828-Sept. 21, 1863) married Mary Ann Bullock, killed in action in the Battle of Chickamauga Creek.
8. John F. Pittman (Oct. 10, 1830) married Thana E. Ryals
9. James A. Pittman (Mar. 16, 1833) married Elizabeth.
10. Stephen D. Pittman (Apr. 5, 1835-Dec. 17, 1917) married Mary A.
11. Charles Calvin Pittman (May 30, 1837) married Caroline.
12. Thomas J. Pittman (Sept. 27, 1839)
13. Jesse R. B. Pittman (Jul. 1, 1842) married Lou.

Of these sons, there were eight that served in the Confederate States of American Army at the same time: Enoch W., Daniel J., Richard B., John F., James A., Stephen D., Charles Calvin, and Jesse R.B. Richard B. Pittman was the only one killed in action but Stephen lost his right leg at the Battle of Murfreesbor in Tennessee on August 31, 1864.

John Pittman was one of the first Pittmans to moved into the southern area of Mississippi. At this time, we think he left North Carolina around 1821 and finally settled in Marion County, Mississippi after the beginning of 1823. We do not know where he lived during that time.

John and Susanna Pittman along with her father and mother and John's mother Susannah are buried in the Pittman Cemetery in Walthall County, Mississippi. This cemetery is located in the Improve Community down the dirt road from Hurricane Creek Church.

Where Is The Little Girl?

This request was published in the paper in Atlanta, Georgia on May 3, 1897.

Mr. Stephen D. Pittman, a Confederate veteran who was wounded at the Battle of Murfreesboro, Tennessee on December 31, 1862 and was placed in Ward 9 or 10 of the Ocmulges Hospital at Macon, Georgia, desires to know if the little girl who carried him milk in a silver pitcher, and whose given name was Emma, still lives and where? Mr. Pittman's right leg was off at the time. His address is Buford, Mississippi.

Mr. S. D. Pittman
Buford, Mississippi

Through providence, I chanced to get the paper containing the above notice, which I read with pleasure and surprise.

Well do I remember your name if only I was a little girl at that awful time. I almost lived with the poor sick, wounded and dying soldiers then, and I greatly rejoice now to think I could carry them milk and cool water, and it was a delight and pleasure of poor little Emma to lend a hand of assistance in time of need. I thank God today for having given me so kind and generous a disposition. I can now look back with pleasure and pride at the many little acts and deed of my childhood. I hope, Mr. Pittman, you are well. I have never forgotten you and many others who were in the Ocmulges Hospital, and I would be so glad if I could hear from them, though I know some of them have passed over the great river. It seems that time would cause us to forget those things so long passed, but those times and troubles can never be forgotten. And often when I am alone and sad my mind will wander back to the scenes and incidents of Ocmulgee Hospital.

My brother out West has the silver pitcher that I used in carrying milk to the soldiers, and he treasures it above all things.

Mr. Pittman, I have had worlds of trouble since you saw me slipping around that hospital. I was little Emma Wright then-light hearted and gay. Now I am a widow with four children, almost dependent on the world for charity. I am expecting to go to Macon in a few weeks, and if I get the position I am expecting I will be enabled to make a nice support for myself and children. I hope you will write to me and let me know how you are getting along.

Very truly, your friend,
Mrs. Emma Hackett
349 Luckie Street

Fellow Confederates: I have just received the above letter in response to the request preceding it...thinking that some of the old Confederate Soldiers who were inmates of the hospital would like to know the whereabouts of the little milk girl. S.D.P

Dear Melvin:

My wife's great grandmother was Texanna Allred and she was the half-sister of Renne Allred, who was the father of James Allred who was governor of Texas in 1935-39. James Allred wrote a book called Allred 1553-1961 which traces this line back. I note that there are a lot of Williams in this line. This line goes as follows, starting with her ggm, Texanna Allred b. 1857 in Texas, her father William b. 1828 in Henderson, TN, his father Renne Allred born 1804 in Randolph, NC, his father William b. 1765, his father William born aft. 1730 in Northumberland, VA, his father John Allred or Aldred b. 1706 Wicomico Parish, VA, his father Willian Allred, Aldred or Aldredge, his father Clement Alldredge b. abt 1628, his father Clement Alredge b. abt.1621 in Worstead, Eng. and his father John Aldred b. abt. 1553 in Eng. Sorry no William married to either Jones or Hawthorn, but there is probably a connection from one of these. Write if you have a specific question, but all I know is what is in Gov. Allred's book. The suggestion of the Allred genealogy organization is your best bet -- in fact I did not even know it existed.

Donny, not an Allred, but I keep the records on all this stuff.

Anyone working on John Pittman b. 1724 Buckingham Va.? The first authentic knowledge we have of John was in Buckingham, Va. He moved to Edgefield Dist., S.C. prior to 1770. He moved to St. Pauls Parrish, Ga. & settled on Kiokee Creek. His plantation was located in that portion of land later named Richmond Co. & in 1790 was cut off & named Columbia Co. John Pittman & some of his children were charter members of Kiokee Baptist Church, the first Baptist Church established in Georgia. It was founded in 1771/1772 by the Rev. Daniel Marshall who also had formerly resided in Buckingham Co. Va. John Pittman marr. Mary Rowe about 1745. Among old family records were found dates of birth of eleven children of this couple, & one grandson Jesse, given in same list as children. John Pittman's will mentions all his children & their grandson Jesse, sharing with his children, no other grandchild sharing. John Pittman and four sons, Buckner, John Jr., James, & Phillip gave themselves to the service of their country. John, the father, was then in his forties, & Phillip, was a mere lad. John Pittman enlisted Dec. 18, 1788. He served in Capt. Harmon Davis Co. 4th Artillery Regt. S.C., commanded by Col. Barnard Beckham. While John Pittman & sons were away fighting for their country, Tories visited their home on the Kiokee. They ransacked the house & threw Mrs. Pittman off the steps of their home, breaking her hip, & rendering her a cripple for life. The father & sons vowed to avenge the cruel treatment of wife & mother. They learned the identity of the parties invading their home. Buckner seemed more bitter than the others & meeting a survivor of this raid, after the war was over on the streets of Nashville, shot him dead. For this he was never indicted. John's will written in 1782, probated in 1785, leaves his Kiokee Plantation, & his slaves, to his wife Mary.

If there is anyone working on this family, I would like to exchange information.

Sylvia, I have been trying to get on the BB all day and I just got in and found your notes.(6:00pm cst) Thanks so much for your reply. I have read a book on Dr. Benjamin Rush and so far have not been able to tie his line to mine. All three of the children I mentioned born to Peter and Catherine, Elizabeth c.26Dec1768, John c.04Dec1771, and Samuel c.20Mar1775 were all born in Charleston, S.C. I think John is James C. Rush's father because I found a John on the census records for S.C. but I don't know how to prove it or if this John is Peter's son. The names Peter and Catherine

REV. HENRY PITTMAN.

Henry Pittman.

In giving a memoir of this man of God, this nobleman among the Lord's ministers, we first let him speak in an autobiography: "I was born in Robison county, N. C., March 1, 1817, being the eldest of nine children. Owing to the poverty of my parents and the meager advantages of schools in that part of the State at the time I grew up to mature age with almost no education.

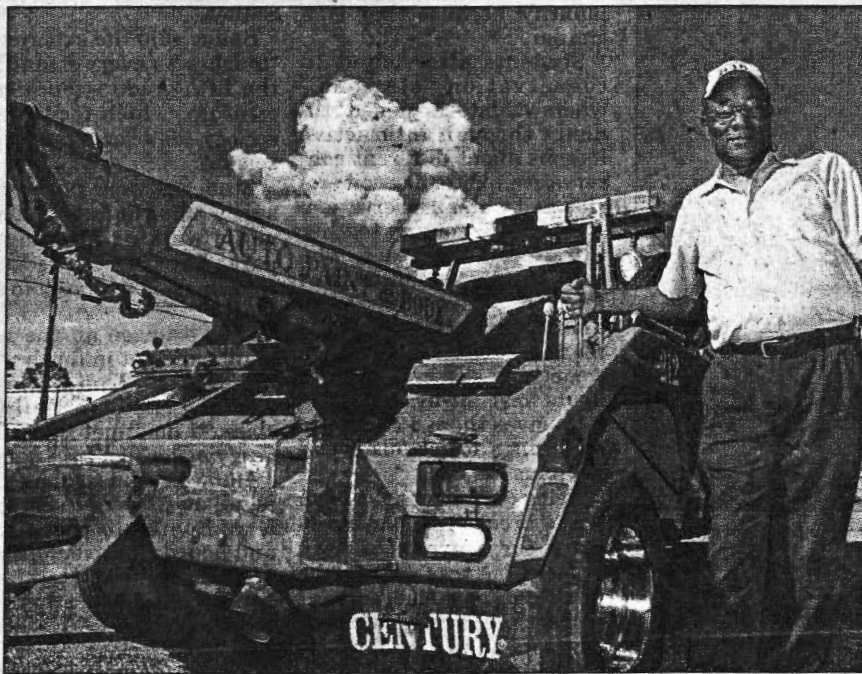

In the latter part of the summer of 1833 Rev. Michael Ross, of South Carolina, had an appointment to preach about six miles from my home. Having heard that he was an able preacher I became somewhat anxious to hear him myself. So I went to the meeting 'dead in trespasses and sins,' and the sermon I heard was the means of opening my eyes to see my wretched condition as a sinner against God. I knew before this that I was a sinner and had often resolved to quit my sinful ways and do better, but I invariably failed to do so. Now I had a view of sin against God as never before, and returned home that evening with a broken and contrite heart. Being ignorant of the way of salvation I concluded that the only way for me to gain the favor of God, whose displeasure I had incurred, was to quit sinning and do all the good I could. I seemed to have no idea of a mediator between God and sinners,
